

"Untouchables" and Mary One More, Detroit
Bunyan's Pious Men
Earth and the Apple
By Arthur Brisbane

Copyright, 1933, Hearst Inc.
The only daughter of the King is married, roses thorns at her as she passes by those that have the privilege of supping her and her family. Her husband will be made a Duke, and Knight of the Garter, highest rank and honor the King can give. It all comes easily. No wonder those inside favor royalty.

Contrast the royal bride in India with the hundred million "untouchables" that live in India under the British government. These "untouchables," one-third of the Indian population, are the lowest "caste." For high caste Hindus to touch them is pollution and disgrace.

In London, at seat of government, two young people that never did anything except be born have everything. In India, on the same planet, a hundred million live, called and called them the "untouchables," forbidden to use through streets in which high caste Hindus live, forbidden to approach within sixty-four feet of a Brahmin, in some places forbidden to use the public water supply as though their drinking part would pollute the rest.

If you were in the Himalayas, looking from the deepest valley at the highest peak, you would say it would take long to level all that off. It will take much time, also, to level off our human inequities.

Don't look for civilization until you have begun to end barbarism.

When a people JEAN a thing they DO it. The people of Detroit, with Mayor Cossens, first class earnest fighting men, at their head, are determined to have public ownership of street cars. And they are to HAVE it. Stockholders are paid fairly, street car officials that fought public ownership to hold their jobs are told by the mayor that they would be put off the streets if necessary. Once more Detroit, a quiet little city twenty years ago, now fourth in population among the cities of the United States, sets an example to the rest of the country.

The Reverend Edwin Curtis, Presbyterian, of Brooklyn, is barred from the ministry. He is accused of frivolity because he says grace for himself. "Lord, we thank Thee for these French given potatoes." Men starting have given thanks for less. John Bunyan in "Pilgrim's Progress" tells you to notice the humble bee taking a drink. He tells her to look to the sky with each swallow to thank the Lord.

The Reverend Curtis is also accused of having baptized a dog, and it shocks you, especially as the dog was baptized "Duster Porter." Yet we baptize babies, babies, and we baptize them in Providence than a harmless dog. We also baptize church walls. Many things a clergyman cannot understand.

A red apple on a little twig at the end of the big branch looks contemptuously on a ground. It knows not it gets juice, flavor and strength from that humble earth below.

So many look upon the farmer, forgetting that national prosperity can never grow much beyond the REA's wealth that farmer turns over with his plow.

Julius Roosevelt, business man on a big scale, tells stockholders of his hundred million dollar concern that general prosperity depends on the price of grain and other farm products.

When grain goes up, the farmer's prosperity goes up and national prosperity with it.

A learned editor discovers that the Bohemian arch is well used while the other Russian people are hungry. Therefore, thinks he, Trotsky and Lenin, leading a well-fed, obedient army can do as they please.

Probably, but it's nothing new. The learned editorial writer must know that not so long ago all countries were ruled in that fashion. The King kept packs of hounds and packs of soldiers, and fed both well. They kept him on top and kept down the crowd, now waked. Men went with a reasonable supply of alcohol. The hungry and discouraged don't fight. That system of ruling the earth didn't begin with Trotsky, it began before the Pyramids.

This nation and its industries are drifting into a great crisis. If the strike comes, factories and men are idle, there will be a great crisis. Still we drift. Until it has happened it seems to be nobody's business to prevent it. The men will lose of course, for public indifference and government attitude are against them.

If there were a threat of the "foot and mouth disease" anywhere or signs of a forest fire, the government would do something immediately. But in industrial matters, most dangerous to the national welfare, we simply wait and see.

Try to Wreck New Haven Train

THE LADY PREMIER THREATENS TO QUIT TRACK

Passengers Thrown From Seats at Wallingford, Ct., as Brakes Jolt Cars to Stop

Wallingford, Ct., March 1.—An attempt to wreck a fast mail train bound from New York to Springfield, Mass., on the New Haven was narrowly averted when the engineer brought it to sudden stop three yards from the laid across the tracks near this station here.

The train carried a number of passengers and a large amount of mail, which is said to have been very valuable.

Authorities of the New Haven road declare that this attempt to wreck the train has been prevented by several other efforts during the past few weeks, and it is probable they will ask Federal officials to investigate.

The train, No. 64, had just left the station here, passing by the section house near the yard limit, the engineer saw the heavy tie lying across the tracks a short distance ahead.

He applied the airbrakes and the long train jolted to a stop so suddenly that a number of passengers were thrown from their seats.

In addition, it disclosed that freight train had passed along the same track less than thirty minutes before, making it evident that the wreck had placed across the route the day before the latter train was due.

The tie, railroad officials said, would have thrown the train from the tracks and caused a serious wreck had the engine smashed into it while traveling at a high speed.

Superintendent Carl A. Mitchell of the Hartford division notified the Wallingford police at once, and they are investigating.

ERIN THREATENED BY POSTAL AND WIRE STRIKE
Dublin, March 1.—Ireland was threatened today with a national strike of postal and telegraph employees, which would virtually sever communications. The executive committee of the union made arrangements for a walkout Friday unless wage cuts threatened by the provisional government are rescinded.

Two Truckloads of Seized Spirits Reported Taken From U. S. Appraisers' Stores

A quantity of liquors described as "very fine" were stolen from the United States Appraiser's Storage Building at Atlantic and Northern avenues, it became known today.

Customs officials admitted they were conducting an investigation, but refused to say how much was taken.

Rumor has it that two wagonloads of very fine European whiskey was taken. Rumors to the building was gained by forcing a trussion on the roof.

In the building are stored several hundred thousand bottles of wine and whiskeys, many stuff taken from European vessels that attempted to smuggle the goods into Boston.

If two truckloads of these whiskeys were gotten away with, a government official admitted the haul would run into thousands of dollars and probably would attract the attention of the public.

DIG SUPPLY NEW PLAN OF COLOR OF BONUS STOLEN COMING

Insurance Feature Prominent; Money for Those Who Desperately Need It

By International News Service.
Washington, March 1.—After milling around for days over methods of raising funds for the proposed soldier bonus, Republican leaders of the House decided today to abandon all plans for getting the money through the levy of special taxes or the utilization of foreign bonds.

Instead it was agreed at a session of the Ways and Means Committee that a plan will immediately be worked out which will not cause a heavy demand for cash payment and its accompanying drain on the treasury for at least two years.

INSURANCE FEATURE
The outline of the plan as agreed on will make the insurance feature of the bill the most conspicuous one by far and the cash feature the least attractive. This, however, leaders believe, will afford relief to those ex-soldiers who are desperately in need of money, but will not attract so vast majority of ex-soldiers, thus tightening the bond the treasury would have to bear.

The plan will be in line of all others that have been presented and will be rushed to speedy completion, Chairman Fawcett declared.

TIDEWATER AID
A committee was appointed to work out, consisting of Representatives Fawcett of Michigan, Dwyer of Virginia, Hawley of Iowa, Townsend of Massachusetts and Coffey of Illinois. Fawcett said he hoped to present the plan within a few days.

Sign the soldiers' bonus petition! You will find it on Page 10.

Shortly after being shown their room, both young men reappeared in the hotel lobby and attracted the attention of other guests by their display of expensive goods. They made a shopping trip around town, each in a separate car, and returned to the hotel after purchasing expensive traveling gear.

BOUGHT CLOTHES LAVISHLY.

In the course of their trip around town, they fell in with a bootlegger, according to the police, and invested in a bottle of whiskey. They had continued on the way when they returned to the hotel, and were in a talkative mood. The clerk finally became suspicious and notified the police.

A patrolman was sent to the hotel and remained through the night on duty outside the room occupied by the men.

The arrest was made today while the men were in their room. Constable at first directed the hotel maid to get the men out of the room, but the clerk of the hotel told the police that he had received information that the men were in the room.

Walter told the police that he did not know Cashier, but supposed he had received it through a paid-up insurance policy. He said Cashier had invited him to "come along for a good time."

Pistol Battle With Liquor Smugglers

Bullet Riddled Motor Boat Sought After Clash in New York Harbor

By International News Service.

New York, March 1.—A bullet-riddled motor boat, in which rum smugglers are alleged to have carried 30 cases of liquor from the United Fruit line steamer, is being sought since the water front today.

More than 75 shots were fired by customs men while pursuing the fugitive craft. Subsequently three men were arrested on the Factors, but it was said they were not members of the crew.

They were charged with plotting to smuggle liquor into the United States. The Factors was the ship at her pier at the foot of East Fulton street when the contraband liquor was taken off.

"TRILBY, THE FAT LADY,"
OF CIRCUS FAME DEAD
Chicago, March 1.—Mrs. George A. Kenna, known in circus showbusiness as "Trilby, the fat lady," is dead here. She quit the circus sixteen years ago. She weighed 400 pounds when she died. While with the circus her weight was said to have exceeded that by more than 100 pounds. A casket nine yards wide and six feet three inches long is being constructed for the body.

MILK PRICE CUT TO TEN CENTS IN BURLINGTON, VT.
Burlington, Vt., March 1.—The price of milk in Burlington was reduced to ten cents a quart today, bringing it down to ten cents, lowest price in five years. It is authoritatively stated that the present price will prevail until next Fall at least.

Special Services Mark
Beginning of Lenten Season
Today is Ash Wednesday, the first day of Lent.
It was observed in Catholic and Protestant churches throughout New England.
Extra masses were celebrated in all Catholic churches in the archdiocese this morning, and ashes were blessed and distributed. Special Lenten services will be held in all churches this evening.
At St. Mary's Church, North End, a special 12:15 p.m. mass will be celebrated daily throughout Lent.

ATTLEBORO MAN HELD
AFTER SILVER THEFT
Attleboro, March 1.—Joseph M. Black of Hayward street, an employee of the Watson Manufacturing Company, was in court here today, charged with larceny of $1,000 worth of silver from the firm. A second round alleged the larceny of $500 worth of silver. He was held in $1,000 bonds for trial on Saturday.

BETTY ALDEN'S COMMENT ON BOSTON SOCIETY

Members of Smart Set Make Dressings for Hospital

By BETTY ALDEN.
TOMORROW morning will find a group of busy workers at their usual Thursday morning task—making surgical dressings, sewing and cutting. This work, which is in charge of Mrs. William W. Caswell, Mrs. Wyman Whittemore and Miss Grace Jewell, is done not alone for the Church Service League, but for the Free Hospital for Women, the work being carried on in Emmanuel Church. During January no less than 4,219 surgical dressings were made.

Among the prominent matrons and young women contributing their services to this work are the following: Mrs. Oscar Langst, Mrs. Rodman P. Shelling, Mrs. Louis Bacon, Mrs. James Jackson, Mrs. Henry S. Grew (Ethel Hooper), Mrs. Thomas Mosley, Jr., Mrs. Moses Williams, Mrs. Homer B. Richardson, Mrs. Walter C. Baylies, Mrs. James S. Lee, Mrs. Rudolph Wolf, Mrs. George S. Mandell, Mrs. Samuel Hammond, Mrs. P. B. Bonis and Miss Alice Barget.

Now that the thousand and one charity balls, debutante presentations and other brilliant affairs of the smart set are more or less over for the season, society is quite naturally turning its attention to give things.

There is an unusually keen interest being manifested by members of the fashionable world in the private view of portraits painted by American artists before the Revolution. This exhibition, under the auspices of the Copsey Society, will be held in the Boston Art Club galleries next Friday evening, March 3, and will close on March 27.

The honorary committee is composed of William Sumner Appleton, Mrs. Charles K. Bolton, Mr. John C. Chase, Mr. Curtis Chapman, Mr. William B. H. Dwyer, Mr. William C. Endicott, Mrs. Allan Forbes, Mr. Edward Walsh Forbes, Mr. Worthington C. Ford, Mr. Morris Gray, Hon. Henry Cabot Lodge, Mr. Grenville H. Newman, Mr. George Hale Nutting, Mr. Charles L. Thayer, Mrs. Nathaniel Thayer, Hon. Winslow Warren, Mrs. Barrett Wendell.

Of the committee in charge are: Holker Obbitt, Mr. Thomas Allen, Mr. Frank W. Boyler, Mr. Frederick W. Cahoon, Jr., J. T. Fenton Coolidge, Mr. Desmond Fitzgerald, Miss Ethel Forbes, Mr. Thomas G. Frothingham, Mr. A. W. Longfellow, Mr. Frank Clair Macomber, Mrs. Everett Morse, Miss Helen G. Mosley, Mrs. Calvin G. Page, Mr. Charles H. Pepper, Mrs. J. Montomery Sears, Miss Martha Blalock, Mr. C. Howard Walker, Mr. Edward B. Warren.

A goodly portion of the younger set is working busily for the success of the Winsor Club's benefit entertainment, which takes place a week from tomorrow afternoon at Jordan Hall. The affair is to aid the Winsor Nursing School down Rutland street, which helps keep healthy and happy forty little children, maintained by the Winsor Club, of which Miss Muriel Saltonstall is president.

No doubt to say, everyone planning to attend the entertainment is looking forward to the singing of Mrs. Nevil Ford (Louise McAllister), whose name is ever allied to the world of music. Mrs. Ford will be accompanied by Malcolm Lang. Another number on the program includes the dancing of Mrs. Ether Gustafson, who will dance for the first time in Boston.

The committee in charge of the event includes Mrs. Charles Wiggins, Miss Alice Bremer, Mrs. Malcolm Lang, Mrs. J. G. Coolidge, 20, Miss Elmer Sutton, Miss Dorothy Thorndike and Miss Isabella Mumford. Miss Gertrude Markey and Miss Susan Lee, Miss Mumford is in charge of the tickets, and can be reached at the home, Essex street, Chestnut Hill, and at Herrick's on March 4, 7 and 8.

Betty Alden.

Random Notes of Society Folk in Town and Country

MRS. FITZ B. TALBOT of Brookline and Nathan B. Talbot have joined Mr. and Mrs. Nathan D. Hill at the Royal Poinciana, Palm Beach.

Judge Robert Grant of Boston has arrived at Alton, S. C., where he is stopping at Wilcox's.

Mrs. Warren C. Harding, Mrs. Calvin Coolidge and Mrs. Frederick Gillett—the latter formerly of Boston—were recently the guests of honor at the capital at Hantscher's, the event being one of the most clever and far-reaching of the annual series extending over a period of several years.

Members of the summer colony at Newport from New York and Boston will be equally interested to learn that Dr. and Mrs. Alexander Hamilton Rice are to be among the early arrivals at the Rhode Island watering place next season. The noted spinner and her wife have arranged to open their magnificent estate, "Miramar," early in May.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoskins Penno of Boston are sojourning at Hot Springs, Va., where they are registered at the Homestead.

Louis A. Coolidge of Boston was recently elected a temporary subscriber to the Everglades Club, Palm Beach, at a recent meeting of the club's board of governors, held at "El Mirador," the villa of Edward T. Stetson of Philadelphia, who entertained the board of governors at luncheon, preceding the meeting.

Miss Ruth Felton of Boston numbers among the recent arrivals at the Hotel Del Coronado, Coronado Beach, Cal.

Gordon Dexter of Boston, who, with Louis A. Shaw is staying with Mr. and Mrs. John S. Curtis, also of Boston, at their cottage in Palm Beach, recently entertained at dinner at the beach Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Fulton Cutting of Manhattan, L. I., are stopping for a few days at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel in New York. Mrs. Cutting, who was formerly Miss Mary Amory of Boston, had a house here for a year after her marriage. She is a niece of James Graham Smith of this city, and a cousin of young James Minto, who is in Washington for the season.

Harry B. Lamoine, who is spending some time abroad, was recently in London, where he was registered at the Hotel Savoy.

HERRICK, DANDER CURLEY FAVOR UP, DEMANDS FUND TO GET HARDING ACT LIGHT FACTS

Although G. O. P.'s Fate Hangs in Balance, President Fails to Come to Rescue
Municipal Plan

Washington, March 1 (By International News Service).—Because, he said, a Senate committee "won't listen to a mere Congressman," Representative Herrick, Republican of Oklahoma, went to the White House today with a demand that President Harding withdraw the name of Thomas H. Mr. Herrick, nominated yesterday for the postmaster at Blackwell, Okla. Herrick was informed that the President was so engaged that he could not be seen immediately, but the late Oklahoma demand is important.

"Why, this matter is important," he said, "that nomination may be confirmed in thirty minutes."

After considerable effort to see the President, Herrick returned to the Capitol to the Senate committee again.

Herrick "told the world" about it today in the reception room of the executive offices.

"If this man gets the postmaster," said Herrick, "the Republican party has about as much chance of carrying the congressional election in Oklahoma this Fall as a snowball has of remaining unmelted in Hell."

Mayer Curley said today he would grant Councilman Watson's order that $1,000 more be expended for the investigation and the securing of information for a municipal lighting plant.

Councilman Watson a few weeks ago introduced an order in the City Council for the purchasing of the Edison Electric Illuminating Company's plant in the city limits, to be used as a municipal plant.

This order was withdrawn because of a question of law as to the purchase of this plant, which might set aside upon the city such an institution as an exorbitant figure.

The additional $1,000 will be spent for the purpose of securing information as to the establishing of such a plant and for obtaining information that will be of benefit to the inhabitants.

Awards Lumber Contract

Mayer Curley today awarded the contract for furnishing 550,000 feet of rough, merchantable spruce, for use in the various departments for the year, to the Davies Lumber Company, the lowest bidder.

SNOW BROUGHT TO LOS ANGELES FOR KIDDIES

WOULD This Suit You?
It is the very latest and most conservative of the one-piece bathing models. A "V" neck, white belt and braid trimmings are some of its features. The closely-woven fabric is green and the trimmings white. (International)

A QUEEN Becomes Queen of the Carnival Miss Marie Berrett, a member of the Folies Ballet, who captured first prize as the Gaiety girl at the fifth annual masque ball of the stage and movie stars held at Terrace Gardens, New York. (Wide World)

THE Ambassador Hotel, Los Angeles, couldn't take their young Eastern guests to the snow-clad mountain sides, so they brought the snow to the hotel.

A CAPITAL SIGHT! The charm, poise and beauty of Miss Elizabeth Hanna, granddaughter of the late Mark Hanna, has made her one of the most talked of women in Washington. She is the daughter of the late Dan Hanna. (Underwood)

MONKEY BUSINESS! This magnificent temple, one of the most beautiful structures in the world, houses sacred monkeys of India. They are not permitted to be killed. Observe the worshipers in contemplation on the porch of the temple. (Gilliam)

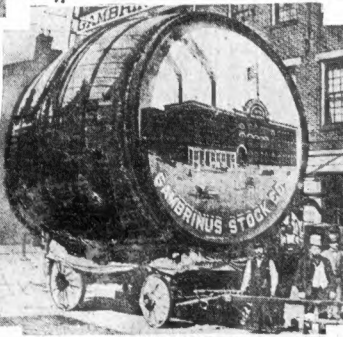

HOW MANY LUMPS, PLEASE? This is perhaps the most stunning afternoon gown of the season, combining both beauty and grace with simplicity. It is fashioned of crepe Reims, some filled, trimmed in velvet and made of delicate shades. (Underwood)

SHE'S AFTER YOUR GOAT! Miss Marion Mosely, charming Bryn Mawr graduate, who is now in America seeking goats, flour and clothing for the hunger-stricken children of North-eastern Labrador. Cows are unable to live there. (Photograms)

THE "TARBELL TWINS," born in Camden, Me., said to be the oldest in the U. S., are greeted by nearest neighbors and friends. The older twin just celebrated 83d birthday. Now live in Chas., Texas. (International)

READ IT AND WEEP! This giant barrel was built 'way back in the good old days of 1879 before monkey gland operations or enterprising poets. Served as an ad for Cincinnati's brewing firm. Has capacity of 16,500 gallons or 231,000 glasses of beer. Measures 16x20 ft. (International)

CAN SHE DO IT? Baroness Beaumont, noted British peeress, who is sure that her effort to win a seat in the House of Lords will soon be rewarded. Would be first woman to win honor. Shows with her young son.

COME BACK, OH COME BACK! Here's the first intimate glimpse of the American I. W. W. leaders in Russia. Left to right, William Shafoff, Bill Hayward and George Andreychins. They await twenty years in Federal prison if they ever return. (International)

A FAR CRY! Major S. J. Delaney of Trenton, N. J., and his recently-invented gas bomb, said to be ideal for police work. Gas is placed in bomb in liquid form and turns into a gas that renders victims helpless for a time without doing him lasting harm.

HARD PRESSED! Undoubtedly this is one of the most remarkable pictures that has graced this page for months. What is most unusual about it is that the photographer was able to get any detail at all considering the speed at which the animals were trawling. It shows the hounds in close pursuit of the unfortunate hare in the famed chase for the Wax for Cox. Eng and. The great dog is almost bent in two. (International)

FOR POSTERITY! Mrs. Sally J. Farham, famed woman sculptor, has nearly completed the bust of President Harding, which has claimed her attention for the past few months. The President, of course, is a busy man, but he manages to spare a few minutes regularly to pose for her. (International)

Sabin, whose name had been used by Lindsay as one of his sources of "inside information" on the stock market, declared he had not the slightest acquaintance with Lindsay and asserted he had never heard of the secret "Domino Club."

Additional indictments against Lindsay are expected to be handed down during the day. Mrs. Helen Burnett and Miss Florence James, two of the broker's victims, were on hand, ready for examination. Lindsay is charged with having obtained close to $1,000

000 from glibble society women to whom he represented that he had inside information on the stock market and that he was associated with prominent financiers, including George F. Dallas, Frank Borchard and James
